

Adjunct Instructor – English 101

- Position: Instructor for a three credit hour English 101 Composition: Comprehension and Creation college course,
- Responsibilities: Teach a one semester English writing course for music education majors. Emphasis should be placed on proficiency in spelling, grammar and usage skills in Standard English. Appropriate skills demonstrating the ability to write effectively and expressively, using essay format, from personal experience, observation and reading should be taught and assessed.
- Qualifications: An enthusiastic subject specialist with a minimum of a Master's degree that includes successful teaching experience.
- Salary: Based on qualifications and experience
- Appointment: Mondays and Thursdays from 6:00p – 7:20p
August 22nd through December 5th with a final exam the week of December 9th
- Application: Send email of inquiry along with a resumé / CV to

Stacey L. Dolan, Undergraduate Dean
sdolan@vandercook.edu

VanderCook College of Music is a small, specialized college granting undergraduate and graduate degrees in music education. As future school music teachers, students must be competent in their verbal and written communication skills.