

Salvatore Grasso

Husband • Father • Teacher • Businessman • Friend
1934 – 2013

“Personal integrity is the most essential element for any teacher, particularly for a band director. You’re closer to the student than any other teacher in the school. A band director has to be a paragon above reproach.”

The Grasso Family asks that donations be directed toward VanderCook’s Inspire. Build. Sustain. Capital Campaign, where a memorial for Salvatore Grasso will be established. This initiative will transform a 25,000-sq.-ft. building on campus into a state-of-the-art performance and education center, and secure the future of music education everywhere.
